Bob Hope's Troupe To Play For Troops

It's no humbug. There WILL be Hope for Christmas this year.

Bob Hope, that is, and troops in Korea are in for a treat. His first show will be at Osan Air Force Base at 2 p.m. on Dec. 18. The following day, the 21-member cast, which includes 19 girls will present a one o'clock show at 2nd Division's Recreation Center 1, and an evening show at 7:30 p.m. in Collier Field

Les Brown

House at Yongsan. The evening performance will be televised live from Collier Field House by American Forces Korea Network.

The Korea Christmas shows are part of the entertainer's 18th consecutive annual tour of U.S. military bases. In addition to Korea, Hope will make appearances in Japan, Okinawa, Guam, Thailand and Vietnam.

Accompanying Hope on the tour, the largest troupe he's ever taken overseas, will be singer-cancer-actress, Ann-Margret; singer Linda Bennett; the four girl singing group, Honey, Ltd.; and the 12 member singing-dancing Goldiggers.
